Sword CTSpace's FusionEnterprise for IBM FileNet P8 a Highlight of IBM IOD EMEA 2010

Moroccan refinery company SAMIR to testify to the real-world applicability of FusionEnterprise for IBM FileNet P8 with a case study about their use of the solution

Brentford, UK – May 7, 2010 – Sword CTSpace's project collaboration solution FusionEnterprise for IBM FileNet P8 will be featured at the IBM IOD EMEA Conference in Rome on May 19-21, 2010. Sword CTSpace's presentations will consist of live demos at their kiosk (#95, in the Industry Solutions section) and a compelling product overview and customer testimonial in sessions at the Rome Marriot Park Hotel. FusionEnterprise for IBM FileNet P8 leverages the generic FileNet framework and adds powerful document management and collaboration workflow features to support projects of all sizes and complexities.

In Room 7 at the Rome Marriot Park Hotel on Thursday May 20 from 4:15 pm to 5:05 pm, Sword CTSpace Pre-Sales and Product Marketing for Southern Europe Laurent Lameck will explain in-depth the benefits of FusionEnterprise for IBM FileNet P8, including process automation, improved risk management, and increased project visibility and control. The abstract for the session reads, "Fusion Enterprise for IBM FileNet P8 helps to master complex change and risk through smarter engineering collaboration...It ensures that all project information is captured, processed and delivered rapidly."

Meanwhile, at the Rome Marriot Park Hotel (Room TBA) on Wednesday May 19 from 11:45 am to 12:35 pm, representatives from the Moroccan refinery company SAMIR will testify to the real-world applicability of FusionEnterprise for IBM FileNet P8 with a case study about their use of the solution. The abstract for this session reads, "This new architecture will help streamline and automate the life of engineering drawings and related procedure documents from creation to archiving, resulting in significant reduction in project duration and costs and help facilitate the maintenance."

Other Sword CTSpace document management and collaboration workflow applications include the newly released Cloud-based solution FusionLive. To learn more about these other products, please ask a Sword CTSpace representative at Kiosk #95 or visit the company website at: www.sword-ctspace.com.
